Seneca was wrong.

People make me puke my soul.

You can hate me, but I'll always speak the truth.

Nectarivore.

Can you tell me about the color purple?

The silence of the internet sometimes scares me.

When you realize that life on earth isn't worth it.

My doctor said I have a hyperactive brain.

In a very serious and deep wave of creative stagnation.

Trying to stop overthinking about everything.

There's a conspiracy to force you to listen to the songs that you don't want.

Plans for this week: do not leave the house.

Any love-themed poetry is pathetic.

Society: just a fucking conspiracy against me.

Feeling like a nameless and amorphous entity.

Why are there so many songs about love? And, up to the permutations of some words, they are all just the same.

Never feed insults.

In fact, our life is just pretend.

Today I just realized that anything, literally anything, can take away my focus.

I always thought that Hannah Höch's "Cut with the Kitchen Knife..." had been made by a contemporary artist.

Eating a lot of sugar in a short amount of time can make you feel "bloodless".

Why do they keep our bodies in this dimension?

Someone told me that God is made of antimatter and lives in a parallel universe.

Identify who drains your energy.

So weird when you want to feel weird.

Should we genetically modify spiders to give them wings?

I could be more hyperactive.

You always have the best ideas when you have nothing to write them down.

Should I get “strawberry sundae” tattooed in Morse code on my fingers?

Every time you think of nothing, you think of “white,” but “white” is still something.

I'm afraid to see blood; this is the main reason why I think my past life wasn't very nice.

Do all bees go to heaven?

Sympathy is a social fallacy.

"Is there a scary skeleton inside me?"... Who's saying that?

Arm yourself with intelligence.

Is it winter now?

I'm an inactive animal.

It's weird how some corners of your home are more "aesthetic" than others.

Almost every day my shampoo slips out of my hand.

Princess Chelsea definitely looks like Rose from "Two and a Half Men".

O'Reilly Media's animal-themed book covers are the best.

Vektroid's new album "Telnet Complete" is incredible. I loved the cover.

Why can't I just print my food? My life would be much simpler.

Why didn't God use nanotechnology on our skin? This way, we could stay clean for an indefinite period of time.

Gerascophobia: fear of growing old or aging.

Emetophobia: fear of vomiting. Enoclophobia: fear of crowds. Basically, fear of parties.

It's interesting how cloudy nights on cold days impress me.

The more you don't talk to anyone, the more you don't talk to anyone.

Periodically, a bee lands in my yard. It usually walks for a while and then dies. Quite weird.

When Erasmus wrote "The Praise of Folly" he had no idea what society would become, otherwise, he would have included the suffix "super" before "praise".

It's interesting how the colors of the asexual pride flag match each other perfectly.

Perhaps the best word to describe my personality is "meta-narcissist".

3D animations using the Cel-Shading technique are really cool.

Clarke's 3rd law: "Any sufficiently advanced technology is indistinguishable from magic." – for real?

I'm interested in 30+ subjects of the centesimal variant of Dewey's Decimal Classification... which means I have no focus.

What are spirits made of? Maybe dark matter?

Dreamcastwave... look it up on YouTube.

"I Hate Fairyland" is definitely the best comic book I've read in recent years.

Whenever I see a plane in the night sky, I look twice to make sure it's not a UFO.

It's interesting how fast you can learn about a variety of things on the internet and how fast you can forget them.

You can't do something wonderful if you aren't a wonderful person.

When you eat a lot of carbohydrates at once, your thoughts get a lot slower and confusing.

“Art is, like magic, the science of manipulating symbols, words or images, to achieve changes in consciousness” – Alan Moore

It's quite difficult to achieve the "transparency and purity of the soul" while you're a megalomaniac narcissist.

When I was a teenager I had a crush on Peyton from One Tree Hill because she was a beautiful depressed artist wearing a black leather jacket.

I would give anything for an eidetic memory.

Life isn't so terrible when you stop complaining and pay attention to the details of a beautiful day.

Electric toothbrushes are the most useless thing ever created.

Everything conspires against your good will.

Living without any kind of culture is a culture itself.

Sometimes I just don't want to leave the house because I don't want to be seen for the next 20 days.

We all want a revelation.

The Bolshoi Simulation simulated the evolution of the entire universe... Could we simulate, through some technique, the mind of God?

It is distressing to think that many masterpieces of art and literature will remain anonymous for years to come.

Do clouds have something to tell us? Is there a code related to the shape of clouds, but so far no one has cracked it?

People will always disappoint you.

Studying at home or at school is exactly the same thing, but you “need” to go to school just to be seen and thus confirm your existence.

I am the messiah of the Internet.

To create an internet-omniscient AI, we need to develop a post-programming language.

It's interesting to note how random searches on the internet can make you change your mind in a very unexpected way.

I have yet to find my power animal on any shamanic journey.

It's a lot of fun to do sentiment analysis on other people's Twitter using IBM's AlchemyLanguage.

Coral is an elegant color.

Anxiety is a trend these days.

My future as a human being: "There is no such file or directory."

I think about Floral Shoppe every day.

Bukowski's poetry is boring as hell.

I just read the story "The Yellow Wallpaper" and now I'm feeling sick.

Nothing can be achieved without focus and a lot of effort.

Last month I bought the book "The Demon-Haunted World". I wasted my money.

Every time I see the title "Mona Lisa Overdrive", I read "Mona Lisa Overdose".

In my opinion, Logosophy is a totally irrelevant ethical-philosophical doctrine.

The musical collab between DJ Dog Dick, Slug Christ, and Pictureplane was the most bizarre collab ever, in all its aspects, even in the names.

Does Fotolog still exist?

The Swift programming language is a snobby and useless language.

Making animations with TVPaint is much easier.

I don't need a meta-psychological essay on narcissism,
I need a metaphysical one.

How can we synthesize the art of a distant future now?

Frappajappajooza isn't even real.

Don't judge a book by its cover. That's true. But I refuse to buy books with horrible covers.

Gallowdance (by Lebanon Hanover) is the weirdest clip I watched this week.

Is not having a religion a religion nowadays?

I feel inspired by the art of Aubrey Beardsley.
Nowadays there are a bunch of artists who are still inspired by his style.

I'm a Hip/Hyp person: hypoactive body/hyperactive mind.

Is the Internet becoming a chaotic network? I think so,
and we need to discover the strange attractors of this chaotic graph.

I strongly believe that biohacking (biopunk) initiatives are essential to lead us to an extropian future... the first step is to reverse skin aging by DNA reprogramming.

How could we synthesize the ultramodern art now (the art of a distant future)? - possibly through the generalization of the meta-abstraction.

I'm sure the clouds are some kind of code that Gaia uses to communicate with those who pay attention.

Can we study narcissism from a metaphysical perspective?

Neuropunk glimpse: the manifestation of mind on skin.

In a sense, a Theory of Random Knowledge could corroborate the emergence of a "post-human ghost" (not a real ghost, but a technological one).

The "elixir of immortality" could be a biological software, endowed with an anti-aging functionality. Therefore, alchemy these days is nothing more than biohacking.

"Witchpunk Alien Bitch" is a good name for a clothing brand.

Is Vaporwave just Post-Massurrealism?

We are never alone because we are always full of bacteria.

We really need to develop some kind of ultra-fast reading platform.

Perhaps Modigliani's art influenced my art in some unconscious way.

God made a mistake by not giving us an infinite sugar tolerance.

Does eating muffins count for something in life?

Definitely, Jesus' teachings are the most advanced conception of human behavior optimization ever.

Degenerate digital expressionism = anxietywave.

Felix Vallotton's painting titled The Visit, Interior with Blue Sofa made a strong depressive impression on me that I feel we urgently need to build an amazing extropian/cyberpunk society.

It's interesting to hear artists explaining their painting process.

Get rid of your toxic friends.

I want an alchemical gothic transfiguration.

We urgently need to apply nanotechnology to dishes to keep them clean forever.

I love artificial plants.

I'm happier now because I'm ignoring all of my problems.

Trying to compose an ethereal exhortatory poem.

Why is the asexual movement so underrated? In fact, asexuality may be the future of humanity (possibly as a consequence of the evolution of extracorporeal reproduction technologies).

The next step of technological development for synthetic biology is to develop some kind of "biological skinware" for the human skin. So the skin will become an entire high-tech surface.
